

Working on “Impossible Cases”: New collaborative ways to move from the impossible to possible / Trabajando con “Casos Imposibles”: Nuevas formas colaborativas para movernos de lo imposible a lo posible

Monica Sesma, Sally St. George, Dan Wulff, Dan Dulberger

Monica Sesma – ICCP Executive Director

This workshop focuses on creating new ways to support practitioners/agencies who are feeling unsuccessful with their cases. This is beyond the traditional idea of supervision for “stuck” cases.

Este taller se enfoca en crear nuevas formas de apoyar a practicantes/agencias que se sienten atoradas con sus casos. Esta idea va mas alla de la formas tradicionales de supervision para casos "atorados".

This workshop focuses on creating new ways to engage with practitioners/agencies who are troubled, stymied, or feeling unsuccessful with one or more of their cases. This is beyond the traditional supervision for “stuck” cases. Our “job” will be to develop new ways to move from impossible to possible by envisioning the troubles in new ways and to develop openings for difference.

100 participants